Matt is an accomplished litigator with over 15 years of experience handling federal and state cases, including civil and appellate litigation, along with arbitration proceedings. As Practice Group Chair of PilieroMazza's Litigation & Dispute Resolution Group and Chair of the False Claims Act (FCA) and Audits & Investigations teams, Matt has a unique perspective on successful litigation strategies to achieve the best possible outcomes for government contractors and commercial businesses. He is particularly adept at identifying weak spots in an opponent's case, often leading to successful dismissals or early resolution of disputes, ultimately avoiding an expensive trial.

Matt has significant first-chair trial and appellate experience in a diverse array of areas, including the FCA; government and private sector contracts; labor and employment; wage and hour disputes; and business litigation, including business torts, unfair competition, trade secrets, and non-compete and non-solicitation disputes. His practice also extends to shareholder direct and derivative litigation, securities fraud defense, commercial mergers and acquisitions (M&A) disputes, and appeals.

Moreover, Matt counsels and represents businesses facing investigations conducted by the Department of Justice (DOJ) and other federal and state regulators, including matters involving the FCA and government contractor suspension and debarment proceedings. Furthermore, he represents tribes and tribally-owned entities in state and federal courts, handling a range of issues, such as strategic assertion of sovereign immunity defenses. Matt is also among a small group of lawyers in the United States who represented a company in a successful appeal of a New York Stock Exchange delisting decision.

In addition to earning favorable verdicts, judgments, and settlements on behalf of clients, Matt is highly skilled at helping clients avoid litigation through counseling, training, risk
